Synopsis

The town is Stevensville, and it's 1884. It's a God fearing town for the most part, but every town in the old west had it's trials and tribulations. This town is no different.

It's also the home of Sheriff Eli Elder and his wife Bethany Elder. One day something really bad happens. With guilt, Eli turns to the bottle.

This western has a lot of colorful characters....all mostly good folk like Lisa Perkins and her curious son Ben, their friend Henry, Preacher Thomas and others.

Then, we meet the towns rich rancher Liam, his sister Ruby and other members of his crooked clan.

Eli must find his faith and make a decision, in hopes to save the town at any cost.

This western movie is about faith, loss, friends, family, fighting corruption, extortion, good vs evil & love .

“Eli Elder must try and save his town, after an evil ranchers family decide to take it over.”

Niche Audiences

Some “niche” audiences are large enough to make for a very profitable market.

There is a large receptive audiences for the western genre. This western could also be called a faith-based western. We have a very clear idea of our audience for making a financially successful film.

Besides the “niche” audiences, we’re aiming for a general audience as well. We think "Eli Elder" will resonate with general and western audiences as well as faith based audiences. It is our goal to reach the widest audience possible so as to return a profit to our investors.

Some Hollywood Talent has been cast. We’ll be looking for local talent as well as local technical crew. Finding a good editor, cinematographer, production designer and other key members of the crew is also very important to us.
